Reopened at Yokohama Sky Building as a facility specializing in units that support Suki, significantly improving operational efficiency

Units that support Suki

8F, Yokohama Sky Building

* Transaction volume and new cardholder acquisition per tsubo are based on actual results for Marui City Yokohama in the first quarter of FY2025 and the 8th floor of Yokohama Sky Building in the first quarter of FY2027, respectively

By specializing in units that support Suki—such as events, merchandise, and cards—we're seeing improvements in store operational efficiency as well. The Yokohama store, which closed in February, has reopened in the Yokohama Sky Building, focusing exclusively on a group that supports Suki.
Q1 sales per tsubo tripled YoY. New cardholders per tsubo increased approximately 20-fold, resulting in a significant improvement in operational efficiency. Going forward, we will continue to expand this unit—which supports Suki—across the country while increasing our base of new cardholders, thereby accelerating the development of a more asset-light business model.

Finally, here is the outlook for FYE 3/2027.

Retailing: Forecast for operating profit

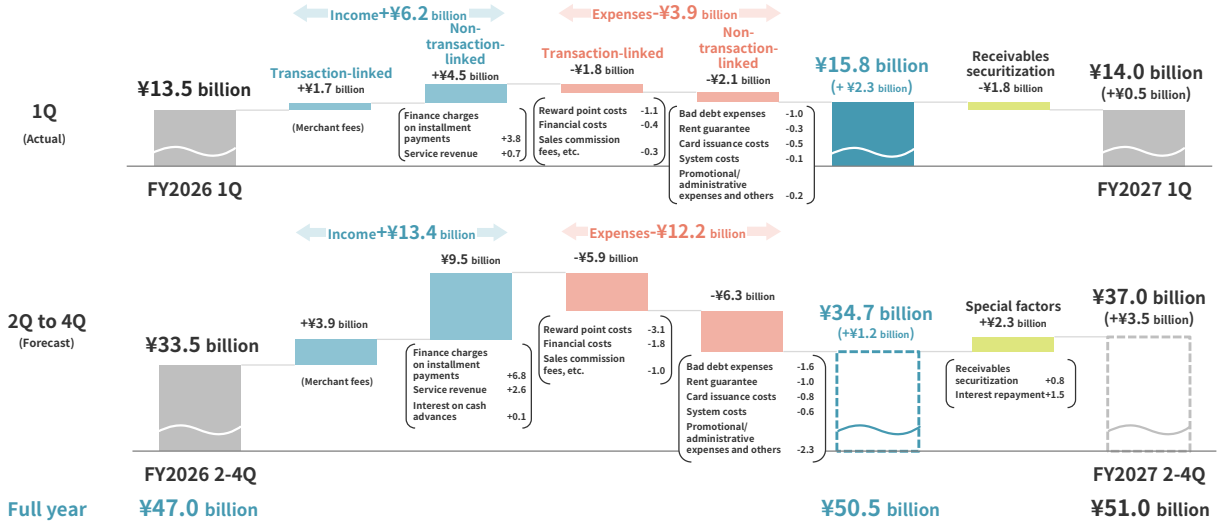

Retailing operating profit is expected to total ¥12.0 billion, an increase of ¥0.5 billion from the initial plan, driven by higher tenant and event revenue

Here is the annual forecast for the retailing segment. Given that tenant revenue from events has performed better than expected, we have revised our operating profit forecast to JPY12 billion, an increase of JPY500 million from our initial plan for the year. The revised figures show tenant revenue and event revenue at JPY200 million each, with e-commerce revenue increasing by JPY100 million.

FinTech: Forecast for operating profit

Operating profit is expected to increase by ¥4.0 billion, in line with the initial plan, reflecting the rebound from the provision for loss on interest repayments recorded in the previous year

33

Here is the forecast for fintech's operating profit.
Considering the reversal of the prior year’s provision for losses on interest refunds, operating profit is forecasted at JPY51 billion in line with the initial annual plan.

Profit forecast by segment for fiscal year ending March 31, 2027

MARUI GROUP

The Retailing operating profit forecast was raised by ¥0.5 billion from the initial plan, and the consolidated operating profit forecast was revised upward to ¥55.5 billion

	FY2026	FY2027
			Variance from initial plan	YoY	YoY difference
	Billion yen	Billion yen	Billion yen	%	Billion yen
Retailing	11.2	12.0	+0.5	107	+0.8
FinTech	47.0	51.0	-	108	+4.0
Eliminations/ Corporate	-8.0	-7.5	-	-	+0.5
Consolidated operating profit	50.2	55.5	+0.5	111	+5.3

34

This shows operating profits by segment.
In light of the JPY500 million upward revision to our retailing sales forecast from our initial plan for the year, we have revised our consolidated operating profit forecast upward to JPY55.5 billion.

Ordinary profit forecast for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2027

Ordinary profit is expected to remain in line with the initial plan at ¥44.0 billion, as outperformance in the Retailing business is expected to offset higher financial costs resulting from interest rate hikes

35

Next is about ordinary profit forecast.
Given the current speculation that the pace of interest rate hikes is accelerating, financial expenses are expected to increase by approximately JPY500 million compared to the plan set at the beginning of the year. The upward revision of operating profit by JPY500 million will be offset by an increase in financial expenses, and consequently ordinary profit will remain unchanged at JPY44 billion.

Full-Year forecast for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2027

Based on the above, here is our full-year forecast.
Consolidated operating profit is expected JPY55.5 billion, up JPY500 million. The forecasts for ordinary profit and profit are in line with the plan set at the beginning of the year. As a result, the EPS and ROE forecasts remain in line with the initial plan, and both are expected to exceed the previous year's figures.
Please note that the implementation plan for the securitization of receivables is included in the appendix, so I would appreciate it if you could review it later.

Establishment of a share buyback program

MARUI GROUP

Acquire treasury shares flexibly

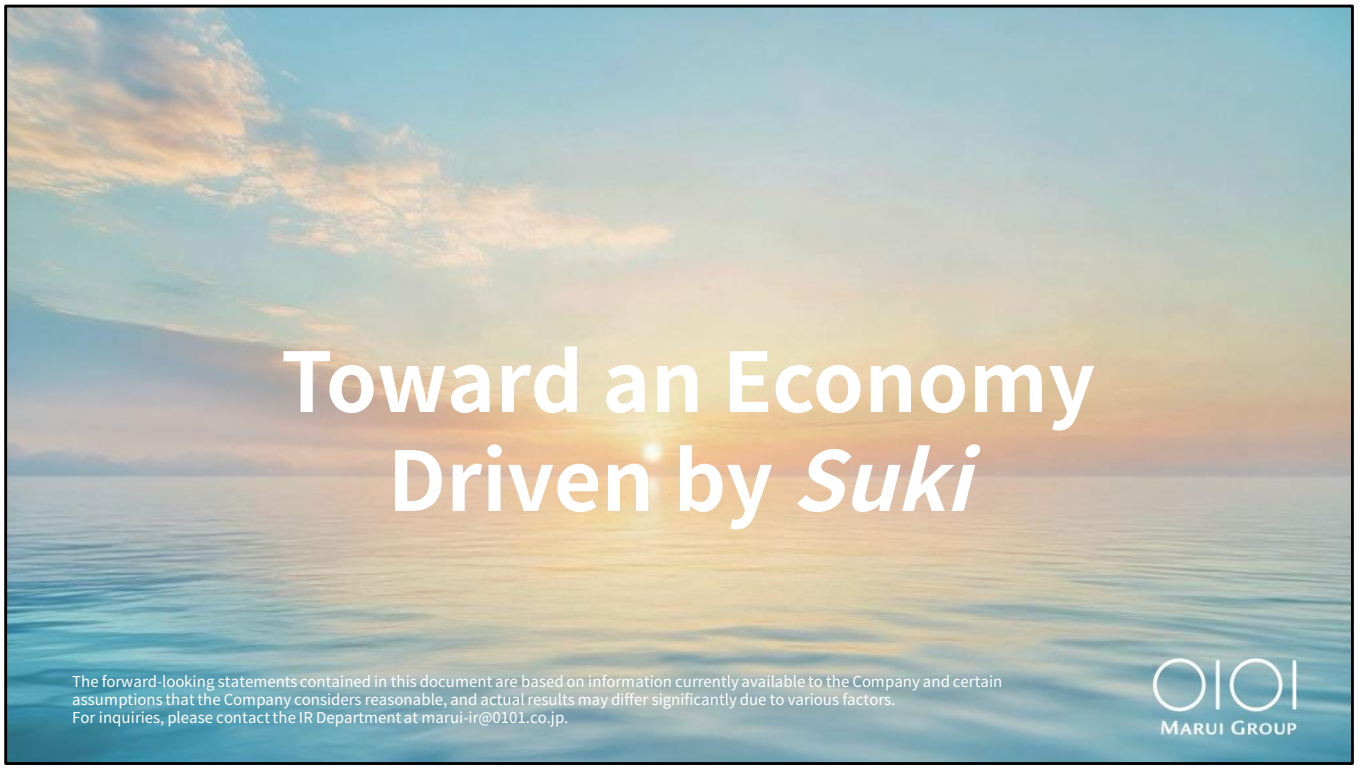

when, for example, future earnings potential is not fully reflected in the share price

Establish an acquisition limit of up to ¥20 billion

(Acquisition period: August 10, 2026 to May 15, 2027)

37

Finally, I would like to present share buyback.
Given that the PBR exceeded two times at the time of our last earnings announcement and in light of the environment surrounding financial expenses, we had decided not to establish a flexible share buyback program.
However, as we entered the present fiscal year, external factors—such as capital inflows into AI-related stocks—have at times led to increased stock price volatility. To respond flexibly to these circumstances, we have established a JPY20 billion share buyback program.

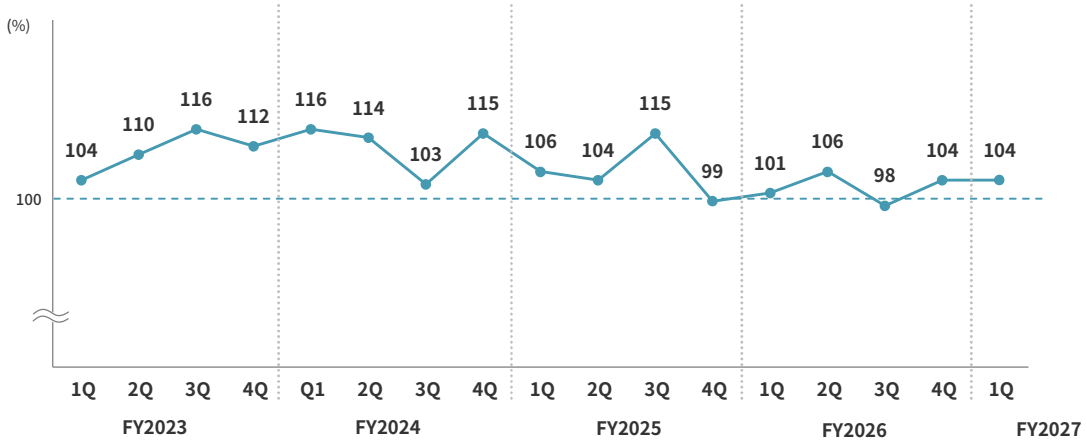

That is all for me. Thank you for your attention.
